NEW BERN
To Where It All Began!
This year’s visitor guide is dedicated to Greg Smith, one of New Bern’s biggest advocates and long-time owner of Mitchell Hardware - a cornerstone of our Historic Downtown. Greg was always willing to share a story about our beloved town. He never met a stranger, gave the best bear hugs, loved to laugh, and was always smiling. Mitchell Hardware was his heart and soul. He was there before the sun came up and often times, until long after sunset. He never took a day off, and looked after his employees as if they were family. Our biggest cheerleader, inside and outside of the store, Greg was supportive of so many New Bern endeavors: charitable fundraisers, city projects, MumFest, the arts community, Craven Community College, TDA, local theatre, the military, Swiss Bear, and the Chamber of Commerce. Greg will truly be missed.
Culture is thriving in New Bern and Craven County, where art, theatre and music are found in various locations throughout the town. In addition to art galleries and theatre troupes, visitors can take advantage of countless opportunities to hear a variety of local music. Many local art organizations, including the Craven Arts Council and Gallery, Twin Rivers Artist Association, and Community Artists Gallery & Studios ensure that all gallery artists in the community have the perfect venue for showcasing their talents, such as painting, sculpture, photography, pottery, fiber art, and more. There’s something happening every weekend that is sure to inspire your creative side.
